

To make a bequest:

- decide on the family, friends, and organisations you want recognised in your will
- choose the type of bequest you wish to leave e.g. a residuary gift, a specific sum, or a percentage of your estate
- visit your solicitor to have your will written or updated with a codicil

For a confidential discussion about how your gift can help work for peace, please contact:

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
FOR PREVENTION OF WAR

NEVER GIVE UP.

MAKE A BEQUEST FOR PEACE.

A peaceful world doesn't just happen. It takes people with hope, tenacity, and commitment to lead, teach, and act.

By making a gift in your will to the Medical Association for Prevention of War, you can help bequeath peace - one of the greatest gifts of all - to our children and grandchildren.

Your bequest will support vital work to:

- abolish nuclear weapons
- disrupt the arms trade
- advocate for victims of war
- protect whistleblowers
- counter militarism & military spending
- reduce Australian involvement in wars of choice
- promote diplomacy
- educate for peace

MAPW does not accept money from governments or vested interests: our work for peace is powered by people, like you, who share our values and hopes for the next generation.

If you decide to make a bequest for peace, please talk to your legal advisor to find the kind of bequest that's right for you and your family.

We welcome any inquiries and treat them in confidence.
